

My exposure to traditional and new media

---

The day I awoken from my slumber

7 Oct 2001

I was born into the age of technology, which was what already surrounded me the exact time I came out of my mother's womb

---

WOW TECH

8 Oct 2001

Though still at the hospital, i'm very sure I was mesmerized by parent's faces and also the beeping lights and sound in the room

---

H O M E T E C H

15 Oct 2001

Just as I reached my home, i was met by my family and also the media and tech that we have. Namely our Sharp television, our LG monitor and our VHS tapes

---

TV & Telephone

4 Mar 2003

As to me amazed how people fit in a tiny box and how I am able to hear my mother talk through a small device

---

My first try at computer

14 Jul 2004

At the young age of Three Years old, I've been jealous of my brother as he always used the computer with flashy pictures. Then again I have tried it

---

THE PC

19 Nov 2005

Through the computer, addiction was made by the hands of games

---

Borrowing the Game boy

27 Dec 2006

I was introduced to the game boy by my cousins, the result was I always borrow it. It was unfathomable back then that you we're able to play digitally with this small device.

my PSP Birthday Gift

7 Oct 2007

As being addicted to games, psp was another platform. This was but a glimpse of accessing the internet from a handheld portable device.

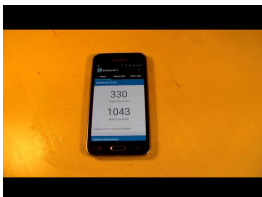

---

First flat screen dektop

19 Sep 2009

again, amazed by how people make technology smaller and more spacious. Of course the bragging tights are there.

---

My first Phone

7 Oct 2016

It wasn't much but it was the best gift and introduction to a world that continues to develop
